ANOTHER DEPLORABLE TRAGEDY.

Thomas W. Turner, Jr., died at the Medina Hospital, at six o'clock Sunday, September 20, 1931, from the effects of a gun-shot wound accidentally suffered some two hours earlier at his ranch home about 15 miles northwest of Hondo.

Mr. Turner and several guests at his home went out to shoot at a hawk that had disturbed the chickens. In returning to the house, the unfortunate man in some way stumbled, his gun, a 30-30 rifle, was discharged and the ball struck him in the left side of his abdomen, ranged somewhat downward and diagonally through his body. His friends and his family rushed him to the hospital but he was injured beyond surgical skill to save.

After a brief service at the Horger Funeral parlors Monday the body was taken to Nixon where after a service by Rev. Tally Wilson at the Nixon Baptist church it was interred under the auspices of the Nixon lodge of Masons.

The deceased was born November 26, 1888, in Dewitt County. He came here with his family several years ago and has been ranching on the upper Hondo. Besides his widow and his aged parents, he is survived by two children, one a married daughter, Mrs. Ora Schott of Riomedina, and the other a son. He also has three living brothers and two sisters.

This entire community mourns the deplorable tragedy, and sympathizes deeply with the bereaved family.

The daily papers report the escape of Homer Edwards from the State Hospital at Rusk on the night of September 16th, and he is said to have been seen in San Antonio.

Edwards is the man who was convicted here about a year ago for a very revolting murder committed in Kendall County but was spared the death penalty because of doubts in the minds of the jurors as to his sanity.

NEW OFFICES.

Dr. H. J. Meyer has moved his office from over the Geo. Carle confectionery to a new location over the Red & White Store. Occupying the suite with him is his son, Dr. John H. Meyer who announces elsewhere in this paper the opening of an office for the practice of dentistry. The latter gentleman is a Hondo boy, having been reared here and having recently graduated as a Doctor of Dental Surgery from the dental school of Baylor University at Dallas.

The second floor of the Red & White Store has been remodeled by the leasees, Kollman Brothers, with a view to combination offices for the Doctors with a joint reception room and separate working rooms of ample space for each, and with the new and modern equipment their offices are ideally arranged and would be a credit to any city.

RIGHT ON US.

You are due some pleasure—Take in the Medina County Fair, October 2-3-4.

THE LEGISLATIVE MILL

By Fred W. Davis.

September 17.

Since the last report cotton legislation has narrowed down to a question of amount of reduction. The House has shown a substantial majority for an allowance of 33 1-3 per cent of the total acreage in cultivation while the Senate favors the planting to cotton of only 25 per cent of cultivated land.

Proponents of the Long plan for a cotton holiday put up a hard fight and beyond a doubt secured more endorsements from farmers of this state and representative people of other states than all other plans combined. But both houses have definitely rejected it, partly, perhaps because it was an extreme proposal and partly because of resentment in the legislature to the attacks of Governor Long.

But few members have had the temerity to stand out against the innovation altogether. Some have, however, gone on record against any attempt to regulate acreage by law. Most of the objections to any law have been based on constitutional grounds. It seems to me that the economic soundness or unsoundness of such an attempt is the more pertinent ground for debate. If such an effort is unconstitutional it will likely be set aside and the real loss will be the cost of the effort. If unconstitutional yet economically sound the constitution may be amended to meet the situation. This may be the next phase of the controversy.

HIGH SCHOOL QUEEN ELECTED.

Miss Thelma Wilson was elected Wednesday by a large vote to represent the Hondo High School as its Queen in the Medina County Fair. Other candidates were Misses Mary Lois Barnes, Lucille Van Fleet, Dorothy Ann Eckhart, Mary Ruth Wilson, Irene Mechler, Margaret Dillon, Charlotte Miller, Jeanette Merritt and Dwyce Cameron. Miss Thelma is a popular member of the Senior class.

The float to be entered in the parade is of blue and white, school colors, and features a huge white football upon a blue dais. Miss High School will have a throne on top of the football and at each corner of the float will be stationed a boy in football togs. A special guard of six football players will flank each side of the float. There will be no maids.

Miss Wilson has the congratulations of the student body with whom she is very popular and of the entire community. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wilson.

CORONATION TO BE BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

In the last stages of preparation, plans for the pageant and Coronation of the Queen of the Medina County Fair to be held Friday night, October 2, indicate a brilliant affair. A garden setting, excellent music and talented performers make up a part of the interesting pageant to be presented at the time of the Coronation. Elaborate ceremonies make up the program for the Coronation of Queen Dorothy of the House of Mangold, who reigns for three days over the Medina County Fair, and her court promises to be one of the largest and most striking in the history of the Fair.

The following is an incomplete list of the members of the Queen's royal cortege; many other towns have not reported their representa-

But if such legislation is unwise, and would eventually lead to political blocs, legislative straddling, and chaos, it would be much better to have these questions fully discussed in order that following this effort agitation along this line may stop. Can government successfully go further in business than the establishment and maintenance of justice and fair play between competing lines of business? This question should be settled at the earliest possible moment because we are just at the beginning of such efforts, if it becomes an established policy.

Our whole economic structure is out of balance caused to a great extent by special favors granted to a comparative few by our government. This is why we have want in the midst of plenty. Can our ills be cured by carrying the program on to every line of endeavor or will we have to back track and correct our former actions?

There was an amusing situation over an effort to censure Gov. Long for his severe arraignment of the legislature. Better to say this incident would have been amusing, if the criticisms had not been so widely published and emanated from a man of wide political experience and holding high public office. The incident referred to grew out of a Senate concurrent resolution denying the charges of Gov. Long and denouncing him as a liar. When the resolution came on the floor of the House it stirred up a heated debate. Some Long defenders went so far as to commend him, and others denounced him bitterly. The House finally amended the resolution by removing its sting and killed the resolution as amended. As it now stands Gov. Long is cleared of the charges made by the Senate. The record will not show the debate wherein every speaker denied the charges of Gov. Long, but it will show the vote which can only be construed as an acquittal.

The Governor submitted to the legislature a bill to fix the tax rate at not exceeding 69c. The Senate promptly acted upon it favorably. There is strong opposition, however, in the House. Those opposing, claim it is passing the buck—pure and simple. They insist that the tax board is empowered with authority to fix the rate and should not try to dodge the responsibility. They also claim the tax board has been studying the situation for some time and are much more competent to act than the legislature. Hon. Geo. B. Terrell of Cherokee County, former State Commissioner of Agriculture, stated on the floor of the House, it was the clearest case of political cowardice he had ever known. Final action in the House was postponed until Monday—as many legislators wished to attend the horse races at Arlington Downs on Saturday and there would not be a quorum left in Austin.

Next week may finish cotton acreage and reach adjournment unless other questions are submitted. Just now they are working hard to get the Governor to submit the question of reduction of salaries.

There will be horse races every afternoon, ball games and other outdoor sports as well as the usual exhibits to interest and instruct the guests and visitors.

ALABAMA EDITOR'S PRAYER

Prayer to Hoover.

Southern Democrat (Oneonta, Alabama): O, Mighty Hoover who art in Washington, when not fishing on the Rapidan, thy name is Haute. Thy will and the will of thy campaign contributors be done in the rest of the country as it is done in Washington. Give us this day our daily bread—and bowl of free soup—for our tin-pot greens and sweet potato vines are almost gone. Forgive us our debts, and if you can't forgive them, for the love of Mike help us to get a job so we can pay for them.

Thou knowest, O, Mighty Hoover, that thy subjects are a dumb bunch, so dumb that we believed your campaign promises. If we had not been so dumb, you would not be president. And since you know how dumb we are, have mercy on us for our pockets are empty, with a green emptiness—also our stomachs. Some of us voted for you in the belief that you would continue our great prosperity, and, behold, our prospecting has gone to the favored fellows of Smoot and Grundy. Some of us voted for you because your handmaid, Mabel, told the preachers and the preachers told us we would go to hell if we voted for Al Smith. So, we voted for you and the country has been a mess ever since.

We thank thee, O, Mighty Hoover, for the relief thou hast given the farmers for thou hast relieved them of all they had except their debts and a few old clothes. We thank thee for the laboring man, for thou hast relieved him of the necessity of rising early to go to his job. We thank thee that thou hast relieved us of the annoyance of factory whistles and the noise of turning wheels, for as whistles are blowing and no wheels are turning (except those who voted for thee).

We thank thee, O, Mighty Hoover, that under thy watchful care the "noble experiment" of prohibition has at last been made effective, for if Mrs. Willbrandt and the holy farm board were peddling their fermentable grapejuice for two-bits a barrel, we couldn't buy a drink.

Thou makest us to lie down in green pastures—and eat grass with the sheep. Thou leadest us beside the still waters, of Muscle Shoals, where no wheels are turning to make a noise. Thou anointest our heads with oil and we can't buy soap to wash it off because of the body tariff.

We know, O, Mighty Hoover, that we are but as worms of the dust and we are nothing in thy sight, for we had no money to contribute to thy campaign fund or gamble on Wall Street. We are but dogs that eat the crumbs that fall from our master's table. When they fall we wag our tails; when they fall faster, we wag faster; when they don't fall we wag slow and wait until they do.

Lead us not into temptation of high living, lest we be taken to the hospital to be cured of gout like one of thy famous supporters.

Yea, though we walk through the valley of hard times and the shadow of starvation, we will fear no evil, for thou art with us and have appointed many commissions to watch over us. Thy tax-gatherers pester us and thy snoopers spy on us.

Surely the landlord and the sheriff shall follow us all the days of our lives and the poorhouse hath not one vacant room wherein we may die in peace.

Hear and answer us, and may the squirrels nest in our hats if we are ever fools enough to follow another

Jack o' Lantern labeled "Republican Prosperity."

So, endeth this prayer, and thank goodness "Hoover Prosperity" is gone and we are on the road to better days.—Lockhart Post-Register.

GLEE CLUB AND ORCHESTRA IN GOOD PROGRAM.

A good audience greeted the Hondo Glee Club and Orchestra for the program announced last week in the Sentinel. The recital was given in the auditorium of the Sabinal High School, and was under the direction of Mr. Armstrong, who has been conducting the orchestra and singing organization for some years at Hondo. A program of classical numbers, interspersed with some in lighter vein, greatly pleased the audience.

There were 21 girls in the group of singers seated on the platform. There were also 21 members of the orchestra, some girls and some men. The Glee club was accompanied by the orchestra in the rendition of most of its numbers. The work of these young people on this occasion showed the results of many months of hard work on the part of both pupils and director.

Mr. Armstrong asked parents and students who were interested to meet him with a view to the organization of high school glee club and orchestra. A number responded and preliminary plans were made for the beginning of the class. Mr. Armstrong contemplated coming to Sabinal on each Tuesday and Thursday. The organization of the glee club will take place on Thursday of this week and further steps leading to the organization of an orchestra will probably be taken at the same time.—The Sabinal Sentinel.

FOR THE BEEKEEPER.

The early Honey Crop from the Huajilla and Catclaw is over, the crop was heavy, but the chances to sell the product are slim, and price-cutting is going merrily on, and if persisted in a little longer may result in honey being sold for less than sorghum syrup or molasses.

The middle of June the mesquite commenced yielding honey quite plentifully and all available spaces inside of the hives have been filled, but on toward the end of June continued rainy weather set in and the mesquite has taken a lay off as it always does in a rainy spell.

After the rains subside the mesquite may again yield honey, while rock brush and sage as well as fall blooming weeds will back up the mesquite, but who will buy the honey? This Hoover prosperity is enough at present to fill the stomachs of our people and honey is not much in demand. Why not? Honey is

NATURAL GAS SERVICE is "Aladdin's Lamp" to Modern Home-makers

The home-maker of today has a modern "Aladdin's Lamp" at her command when Natural Gas serves her home.

She doesn't even need to make a "wish" every time she wants hot water, heat or a meal prepared. Because the tiny "blue flame" is itself the "modern magic" which performs these household feats so easily—with little or no thought or attention.

If Natural Gas is not installed in your home, you are missing many of the comforts and conveniences which thousands of families now enjoy.

Let the daily experience of others demonstrate the cleanliness, speed and economy of this modern Aladdin. Call on us for information about gas service in your home. We will be glad to talk it over with you.

  - 1/2 cup melted lard
  - 1/2 cup sour cream

good.

Mr. S. B. Wilson of Abilene, Texas, made a call at the honey house of the Sweet Sixteen Apiaries and bought 6 cases of honey very reasonably, buying mostly the off grade and yellow honey, and asked for honey even stronger than our yellow honey, claiming that the strong, ill tasting honey is the only kind you can sell in North Texas. He also told us that new 10-pound pails are sold in Abilene at 7 cents apiece while here in San Antonio they cost us 11 cents each in quantity.

Two hundred and eighty 3-frame packages of bees were hauled by truck from Mathis, Texas, to Powell, Wyoming, by Mr. A. D. Hardy. The distance is 1,500 miles and the bees came through O. K. says Mr. C. S. Miller of Manzanola, Colorado, at whose place the bee-mover had stopped on his way back. Perhaps we can all join in that game, and get lots of clover honey and not sell same for want of a customer.

Mr. F. W. Biggs of Manchaca, Texas, salesman for the new Texas Co-operative Honey Association writes me that in travelling in North Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas for three weeks he could not sell a single case of honey, because the merchants get discouraged in handling honey by these honey trucks from South Texas selling honey at any price and cutting their own price about three times a day.

Since the U. S. money is all bottled up in New York and some other big centers, and since no one here-about seems to have any loose cash, but crops are plentiful we have decided to take in anything of value in exchange for honey at its market value, except live snakes, lizards, horned frogs, etc. Let us come together on the exchange basis. We used to live without money before, and we can do it now if we use our heads.

You can sell lots of honey to tourists by posting a honey for sale sign on your gate. So says the Beekeepers' Item.

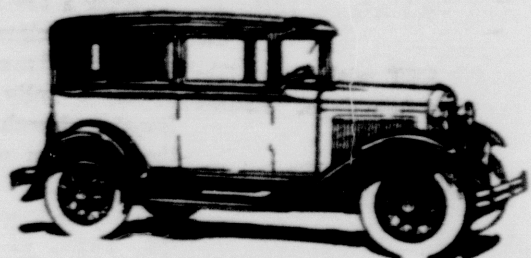

All right! Let us try it, I have been selling a few cans through some grocery stores, and I would also sell to tourists and aeroplanists or anybody else if they care to buy.

With all the above there is a silver lining in the make-up. If we sell our honey we will not have no bee-feed to buy for the LOUIS BIEDER LaCoste, Tex.

You can save money on your paper and magazine subscriptions letting us handle it for you.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life.

Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,561 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worth-while dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

THE FORCE OF ADVERTISING.

"I put no limit on the force of advertising. It is the single force which has brought America to its present position of prosperity and world dominance in trade. For advertising creates desire. In order to satisfy desire one must work, and in working one produces more things which must be sold and in turn more advertising results, and more desires are created and satisfied. Anything that increases desires increases prosperity."

FROM THE BANDERA NEW ERA.

ADDRESSED LION'S CLUB.

It was the New Era editor's happy privilege to be the guest of the Hondo Lions' Club at the weekly luncheon in Hondo last Tuesday. We have received several very cordial invitations to talk before that club, but this was the first time we have been able to accept and respond to the invitation. We gave a brief sketch of that intrepid old frontiersman, Big-foot Wallace, who was one of the first settlers of Medina county. A splendid chicken dinner was served in the Chamber of Commerce room in Hondo; the attendance was very good, and we had the pleasure of meeting quite a number of the Hondo business men at the gathering. Prof. Barry, president of the Lions' Club, presided. Henry Merriman is secretary of the club and has charge of this month's programs. It was through his invitation that we were induced to attend on this occasion. Hondo's Lions' Club is very much alive and is doing a fine work in civ. affairs. The cordiality and hospitality that was accorded made us wish that Bandera had a similar organization. After the luncheon, and during the short time we had to spend in Hondo, we dropped around to see our good friend, Fletcher Davis, publisher of the Hondo Anvil Herald and Fletcher's Farming, and found him as usual up to his neck in work; with him we discussed the feasibility of asking Governor Sterling to next call a special session of the Legislature to prohibit editors from working so hard; we also met Dr. O. B. Taylor, an appreciated reader of the New Era, and also found Walter Short, well known ranchman, browsing around town. Both of these gentlemen talked about the road from Bandera to Hondo, and we all agreed that it should be put in better condition. We met a number of other prominent citizens of Hondo who invited us to attend the Medina County Fair on October 2, 3 and 4, and if nothing prevents we are going to be there.

NEED ROAD TO HONDO.

There are two roads leading from Bandera to Hondo, one of them being a direct route, the distance being thirty-two miles, passing through the East Verde settlement; the other route goes out by the Sandertur ranch and intersects the Tarpley-Hondo road at a point eighteen miles from Bandera, and the distance covered by this route is forty-two miles. Some people claim the longest route is the best road, but both roads are mighty rough. If you go to Hondo over one road you will wish you had traveled the other. Bandera needs a better road to Hondo, for the benefit of the people who travel between the two places. Some of those Medina county people are urging that the road be fixed, and those having property along the route are willing to lane the road in many places to insure a good road. The people of the East Verde section have been improving the road themselves and out that far it is in fairly good shape. We believe if the proper steps are taken Medina and Bandera counties will work together to make this a good highway, and in due time it can be designated a State Highway.

IT CAN'T BE DONE.

There is one born every minute!

This time a young man in New Jersey decided to try out the old theory that a lighted match would be extinguished if quickly plunged into gasoline. Result! He is now in the hospital in a critical condition, his body badly burned.

Theoretically a lighted match could be extinguished by gasoline if it could be quickly plunged through pure air into the liquid. Unfortunately, it is impossible to fulfill the requirements, as wherever there is gasoline there is also gasoline vapor immediately above it. This vapor mixed with air forms a powerful explosive, the same as that which propels motor cars. In the foregoing experiment the lighted match had to pass through a layer of vapor mixed with air which immediately exploded and covered the victim with flaming gasoline.

As an interesting sidelight of this experiment, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported a 1929 fire loss of $15,500,000 caused by petroleum and its products and listed under the heading "Strictly Preventable." It also points out that people who attempt to do dry cleaning in their homes with gasoline are courting disaster.

Whenever anyone feels inclined to take liberties with gasoline he should remember that potentially it is nothing less than a death-dealing explosive. The vapor from one gallon of gasoline mixed in proper proportions with air, has explosive possibilities equal to 83 pounds of dynamite.

For the best HOME-ROLLED cigarettes ever... try this

OPEN a tidy red tin of Prince Albert... sniff the delightful fragrance of the tobacco. It's the grandest aroma that ever floated out of a package of smoking tobacco. Then spread a cigaretteful in a paper and see how quick and easy it rolls into a trim cigarette that burns evenly and stays put. No fuss or muss or spilled tobacco... because P.A. is crimp-cut. That's why it rolls so smooth.

Now light up!

You'll have to admit that no other home-rolled cigarette ever had so much to recommend it. Prince Albert is simply better tobacco, Gentlemen.

Have you tried a pipe lately? Men who thought a pipe was not for them have changed their minds after the first lead of P.A. This friendly tobacco just wouldn't think of biting your tongue or parching your throat. Take my tip... get out the old pipe and give it a new deal.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

There is a mighty dynamic power at work in the world that no individual can afford to ignore. Jesus is not a dead Christ but a living one, and each individual must sooner or later come to reckon with him and it is our privilege to have the peace and joy that comes from a life surrendered to him. Man who treats life seriously must make the intellectual effort to understand and unify his life with the teachings of this mighty moving figure in the gradual uplift of the ideals and purposes of mankind. Without the motivating principles of Jesus in our lives we become unstable in all our ways, floundering about, swept here and there, by the evil influences in the land, as a ship out on the sea without a compass.

We cannot ignore the past and cast overboard the sacred teachings of those who have preceded us; they who have built a goodly foundation on which to construct a lasting civilization. It is but for us to continue to build thereon. Are you a builder? Or do you find that you are a party to those things that are undermining, and seeking to destroy this sacred foundation? The Sabbath is one of them. There are forces that are not only ignoring the Sabbath, but are defying the laws of our land in their efforts to make it a day of pleasure and profit when it should, and was instituted for man's good, for rest, for worship, for communion with the Father. Have you nothing to do with those who would use it otherwise than for spiritual uplift.

The Christian Church is here in your community to help you to come into the proper conception of life, and its purposes, and ideals, avail yourself of the help that it offers you.

Sunday morning at the Methodist church, Promotion Day will be observed at the Sunday school hour. Every member of Sunday school is urged to be present. Every other one is invited to come and identify yourself with our Sunday school. Start on time as you would in Public School.

A strong and experienced group of life insurance executives contemplate the organization of an old line legal reserve life insurance company. These men would like to hear from individuals who own vendor lien notes and first mortgages on city, town and country improved property in Texas, that would be an acceptable investment for a life insurance company.

This group would also like to hear from individuals who have other forms of securities which might be an acceptable investment for an insurance company. #### GIRLS AND BOYS.

Below are rules you should stand pat on when hunting:

Don't carry your gun loaded in your car. Never reload it pointed at a friend's stomach. If hammerless gun be sure the safety is on; if hammer gun keep hammer in safety notch. Always hold gun by the butt end; if in a trail and a friend in front turn the gun backwards. Crawling through a fence put your gun on the ground through the fence, get over yourself and then pick it up, but don't forget the proper end. And never point an empty gun at anyone.

If the above rules are carried out the majority of accidents will not happen.

ONE ON AESOP. (A modern fable).

From The Owl.

Once upon a time a family of house flies lived in a tin can just outside of the city limits. The family consisted of five flies, papa fly, mama fly, brother fly, sister fly and baby fly. Papa fly and mama fly were called Mr. and Mrs. Housefly, brother fly's name was Henry Housefly, sister's name was Helen Housefly and little baby brother's name was Adolf Housefly.

One day all of the Housefly family was killed except little Adolf. They were killed by a poisonous gas called Flit.

One day little Adolf became hungry so he flew into a butcher shop and began to eat bologna sausage. He ate and ate bologna (pronounced baloney) until he could not eat any more so he flew upon the wall and began to buzz. About that time the butcher came along and heard Adolf buzzing so he killed poor little Adolf Housefly.

Moral: When you are full of baloney keep quiet.

FEEDING THE FARM HORSE.

The method of feeding the farm horse has much to do with his condition and with utilization of the feed, says the Bureau of Animal Industry. If the horse bolts his grain, make him eat it slowly by spreading it out in a large, flat box, by putting some smooth stones (about 3 inches in diameter) in the box, or by mixing the grain with bran, cut hay, or similar feed. If two kinds of hay are fed, one of which is especially palatable, the horse may waste the feed by pulling it out and trampling it. In this case, feed only one kind at a time. Feed some hay before the night grain, as otherwise the horse fills up on hay afterwards, and the grain is forced through the stomach too quickly. Keep the grain box and manger free from chaff, dirt, and other trash. Feed the horse only at regular intervals in the work season.

WINTER LEGUMES IN THE SOUTH.

The use of winter legumes for green manure in the Cotton Belt has increased greatly in recent years, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Austrian winter peas, hairy vetch, and smooth vetch are the crops most generally used. Make seedlings the latter part of September or early October, as earlier seedings may result in nematode injury and later ones in poor stands and growth. The legumes should be inoculated at seeding time. Use a commercial fertilizer consisting largely of superphosphate, especially when growing a legume on land for the first time. Barnyard manure growth and helps to inoculate the plants. Turn under the green-manure crops two weeks before corn-planting time, and three weeks before cotton planting.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS.

The Hondo High School "Owls" started practice Monday, August 31. Twenty-five boys have reported for practice, and though the squad is the highest in the history of the school, the coaches hope to have a winning combination before the season is over.

Six lettermen are listed among those out for practice: Smith, guard; Ed. Taylor, fullback; Finger, quarter; Stiegler, tackle; Ulbrich, guard, and Rucker, end. Tony Taylor, who made a reserve letter in 1929, is eligible this year, and looks mighty good in practice.

Boys out for backfield positions are: A. Finger, Ed. Taylor, Schuehle, Noonan, Haegelin, Muennink, Crouch, Ches. Stiegler, Jones.

Those trying out for ends are: Rothe, Parsons, Lancaster, Rucker and T. Finger; tackles: Stiegler, Ulbrich, Tomerlin and Pichot; guards: Coffey, Embrey, Shoor, and Mechler; centers: Smith and T. Taylor.

The team will be coached by J. G. Barry (Baylor), C. M. Flory (A. & M.), and M. I. Broxton (A. & M.). Little can be said about the prospective line-up at this time, as the coaches are still shifting the men about trying to find the right combination. Finger and Taylor are fixtures in the backfield, and Ulbrich and Clifford Stiegler look like the best bets at tackle. Smith will probably be used at offensive center, with T. Taylor backing up the line on the defense. Rucker will probably get the call at one end position, but the other end and the halfback posts are a big worry to the coaches.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Paul D. Best of Washington, D. C. visited Miss Boyd over the week-end.

Miss Margaret Owens, a former student of the Hondo High School, visited here Tuesday.

Miss Elizabeth Holloway left Sunday for Belton.

Frank Rucker was elected president, Lucy Davis was elected vice-president, and Lucille Van Fleet secretary and treasurer. Come on Seniors, let's back our officers and make this a big year.

YELL LEADER ELECTED.

On Thursday, September 17, the student body assembled in the study hall and elected Robert Zuberbueller as yell leader. Other boys nominated for the position were Edward Armstrong and Bru Miller.

HONDO 0; SOMERSET 6

The Hondo Owls met defeat at the hands of the Somerset Bull Dogs by a narrow margin of 6 to 0 last Friday September 18, on the Owls' home field. This was the first battle of the season for the Owls and the Somerset Bull Dogs and also the first game ever played on Hondo High's new grass sodded field.

Neither side showed much fight in the first quarter due to the fact that this was the first game of the season and because of the intense heat. In the second quarter things began to pep up a little but at the end of the half the score remained 0 to 0.

The third quarter started with the Owls kicking off to the Bull Dogs and then holding them for downs. Then the Owls received the ball and marched down the field to the Bull Dogs' thirty yard line where August Finger, quarterback and star backfield man, received injuries that took him from the game. After that the Bull Dogs received the ball on downs and kept it the greater part of the game making a touchdown the last few minutes of the game.

The Bull Dogs averaged 165 pounds to the man while the Owls averaged 145 pounds, but the Owls showed their fighting spirit by holding the Bull Dogs for downs in mid-field and for four downs within five yards of the goal line. Charlie Embrey, guard, put up a real fight and played a good game. This was Charlie's first football game.

The Owls may be little but they have what it takes to play football. Let's show our school spirit and back them.

WINTER GARDEN FAIR.

From the customary charge of 50c, the admission to the fair at Pearsall this year has been lowered to 35c. Children will be admitted for 20c, or for 100 ears of good corn, if the youngster likes. Nor will there be any additional charge for admission on the second day of the fair when the big free barbecue is spread. The price will be 35c and 20c as on other days, according to information reaching the Hondo Anvil Herald.

Fair directors at Pearsall made the change in admission prices this year in keeping with the lowered price of all commodities, and in order that a larger number of people might have the privilege of enjoying renewed acquaintance on the grounds and taking in the festivities of the fair.

An old time ball will be one of the attractions for the first night, and all the people both young and old may do the square dances and reels and step to the delightful tunes of other days. This is a special event of pleasure at the fair each year.

Donkey polo, with teams composed of prominent citizens of surrounding towns maneuvering their speedy steeds, croquet mallets in hand and their eyes on the ball, will be one of the free attractions each afternoon. There is only one rule to the game. A player may dismount to try to drive the ball towards his goal, but he cannot let go of the handle. Mirth and laughter and fun await all who see these games.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all the people to attend the 11th annual fair at Pearsall, October 7, 8, 9, and 10th.

SUIT IS WON BY FISHERMAN.

Under ruling of a Thirty-seventh District court jury Thursday, R. W. Heath and others, defendants in a suit brought by the Diversion Lake Club, may fish in waters of the Medina river running through the club property.

However, to fish in the waters, the defendants in the suit must lower their boats from a bridge spanning the public county highway and not from any point of the club's property, according to Ira Kercheville, plaintiffs' attorney.

The jury Thursday had but one question to answer, namely:

"Does the Medina river retain an average width of less than 30 feet from its mouth to the main dam?"

The jury returned an answer of "No." This automatically makes the stream navigable and the property of the State and open to any man.

Kercheville said a judgment would be issued restraining the defendants from going on the club's property.-- S. A. Light.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.
By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texas"

Unwarranted Expectations.

Many Texans are expecting too much from legislation. No sound reason can be given for any great advance in cotton or other farm prices because of any legislation that may be passed in this country unless it also can increase the ability of the world to pay higher prices. Undoubtedly it will be to the advantage of Texas to decrease cotton production, but such decrease cannot in itself increase the world's buying power to any great extent. Proposed legislation does not go to the root of the trouble, which is international in character, and any remedial effects therefrom will at best be temporary and by no means what noisy political exhorters so freely assert they will be.

Sterling's Philosophy.

Governor Sterling may not be classed as an unusually brilliant man. In fact he is rather a slow thinker, but he exhibits plain common sense to an unusual degree and a homely philosophy that proves him a clear thinker. To use his own expression, he "keeps his feet on the ground", and is not easily swept off them by political clap-trap of a kind so much heard in recent days. When an opinion is once formed he bluntly states it without regard to its effect upon his own political life. He is not always right, of course. No one can face so many difficult problems as confront the governor of Texas almost constantly and always be right, but he always thinks he is right before he speaks.

He believes that the people as a whole think along the right lines and that it is only necessary to find out for certain what they are thinking. Speaking of legislation action, he recently said, "I can't see that this session will benefit the farmers a great deal in prices this season, although it may stimulate the price a bit. The greatest benefit will be the education of the farmer in diversification of crops. World-wide depression of business must be adjusted before the price of cotton or any other commodity can be materially increased. The mills will not buy until they can sell. Merchants cannot wisely stock heavily under uncertain conditions."

Unaccountable Hysteria.

Recently Governor Sterling said that there is too much hysteria in Texas and the South. This is plainly so. There is more food and raw products for clothing and other needs than can be used. At least for a few months the cotton fields will want more labor than can be obtained. Farmers are begging for help they cannot get at the highest prices the market for products will justify. The South is all right even if there is but little money in circulation. All that is needed is for everyone to be as patient as possible with those unable to meet existing obligations until inevitable financial adjustment is brought about. Hysteria but prolongs that adjustment. The country time and again, has gone through conditions worse than those now existing. Prosperity has made people prodigal and they are merely paying the penalty of their improvidence. Why cry about it?

University Buildings.

Working sketches for $3,500,000 worth of buildings have been approved by the regents of the University of Texas. These buildings are to be paid for out of oil royalties. Had its oil properties been conserved in a way to have saved the oil and gas for the University the wealth of the institution would have been such that legislative appropriations would now be unnecessary. Exploitation of Texas oil properties, both public and private, has robbed the people of much of this source of natural wealth.

Reducing Truck Acreage.

Having learned by expensive experience that there can be "too much of even the best of things," truck growers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the Winter Garden District, have agreed together—without asking to be forced to do so by legislation—to reduce crop acreage. The reductions, based on apparent market demands, range from 25 per cent on string beans to 64 per cent on cucumbers. Tomatoes will be reduced 31 per cent. These truck growers have found that they make more money when production merely keeps pace with demand and are trying earnestly to make the necessary adjustments.

Texas Goods Week.

The South Texas Press Association has asked that a week in November be set aside to advertise and buy Texas-made goods. Such a movement, if given the hearty support of manufacturers and merchants, would do much to acquaint people with the merits of goods made in Texas. Most of us are unacquainted with many Texas products. In an article in Texas Weekly, C. M. Hammond calls attention to a Texas-made shoe of superior quality that retails for $5.00 a pair, but it is doubtful if a dozen newspaper publishers in Texas had ever heard of it. Texas manufacturers must make their products known to Texans if they would sell them. Most of them are entirely too indifferent to the value of persistent publicity.

Value of Publicity.

The Coca Cola business furnishes a fine example of the value of publicity. The business has grown steadily from its beginning, but the advertising has been always a little ahead of business growth. A Coca Cola franchise is now valuable. A local manufacturing plant and business at San Antonio has just been sold for $600,000 to Shreveport buyers. It was begun 22 years ago in a very small way by the owners who made this sale. Persistent push has done the trick and enabled them to retire wealthy. They could not have done this without advertising. Why expect any business to grow of itself, however good its products may be?

Growing District Fair.

The Winter Garden Fair, to be held at Pearsall, October 7-10, will be "bigger and better" than ever according to announcements, and those who know the district do not doubt the statement. There is a spirit of co-operation in that section that works constantly for its improvement. Success merely stimulates greater effort. With diversified crops better than ever before, there is no reason why a better fair should not be held, and it will be.

Burnet's Prosperity.

For a long while Burnet appeared to have reached its maximum growth. The building of the great Hamilton dam near by has changed conditions and there is unusual building activity in the town, which is going after the extra trade that the construction has brought. The town now wants to secure added attraction of a State park. Numerous small dams in the streams around Burnet, Marble Falls and Llano, when completed, will create reservoirs to be stocked with fish, should attract thousands of visitors to that section, which is recognized as one of the beauty spots of Texas.

McCullough County Library.

If anyone has ever doubted the demand for county libraries, the annual report of the McCullough county librarian should remove that doubt. It shows an average of 12 books read for each of the county's 13,000 inhabitants—a book a month. The county library supplies its substations with the books listed in the State Board of Education reading courses, a system proving so helpful that the county board of education now proposes to pool the book fund available for the various districts and thus supply many more books than it could purchase directly with money in hand.

Official Studies War.

Adjutant General W. W. Sterling will attend the Army War College in Washington Oct. 1 to 30 as a student in the executive course. From there he will fly to Harvard to witness the Texas-Harvard football game. Evidently the Texas officer believes in preparedness.

More Canning Reports.

More than 750,000 cans of fruits, vegetables and meats have been put up by Navarro county farm women for winter food supplies. Merchants have sold over 180 canning outfits this year and more than 1,000 families have enough food stored to last the winter.

Toured the East.

The chairman of the State Board of Control, the State Highway Engineer and an architect have returned from a trip to Harrisburg, Pa.

This Woman Lost 64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodside, L. I., writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 years old than the mother of 2 children, one 19 and the other 18. Every one of my friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat with speed take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—don't miss a morning—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—get it at W. H. Windrow's or any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

Love in Greenwich Village is the theme of "Up Pops the Devil," Paramount's latest comedy-romance adaptation of a Broadway hit of last season which comes to the Colonial Theatre Saturday. The story concerns the marital difficulties of Norman Foster and Carole Lombard, as the young writer and his ex-dancer wife. There is a pleasing finish. In the cast are Joyce Compton, Skeets Gallagher, Stuart Erwin, Lillian Tashman, Edwin J. Nugent, Eulalie Jensen, Theodor von Eltz and the Negro comedian, Sleep N. Eat.

Young lovers caught in a mesh of gold is the theme of "Mother's Millions," which comes to the Colonial Theatre on Sunday and Monday. The story depicts the stirring efforts of a son and daughter of wealth to achieve happiness in one of the most remarkable households ever pictured upon the screen. James Flood directed this, one of the season's most important releases, from May Robson's latest starring stage play. In the screen version the cast includes, besides May Robson, James Hall, Frances Dade, Lawrence Gray, Elinor Flynn, Lillian Harmer and Edmund Breese.

Another rollicking, heart-warming juvenile comedy-drama, the third from the Paramount studio this year, will make its appearance at the Colonial Theatre starting Thursday. It is the famous Mark Twain story, "Huckleberry Finn," with Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green, Junior Durkin and Jackie Searl in the featured cast. Fat and jolly Eugene Pallette heads the cast of adults. "Huckleberry Finn" carries on the adventures of the real boys, Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn. There are laughs, tears, thrills, heart-throbs and deep-down emotions galore in the amusing adventures of Mark Twain's immortal young heroes.

Sixty two thousand Texas farmers have taken advantage of this system of borrowing over one hundred eighty one million dollars. Why not you? Former restrictions have been taken off and you may borrow for any purpose provided for in the Act, as farmer only.

The Only Safe Route

He who keeps saving as he goes along Has a drawing account if something goes wrong; While those who keep spending as fast as they make, Are sure to find out they have made a mistake. Don't leave the door open, the wolf may get in And cause you to suffer. To not save is a sin The man who saves has more self respect, As well as less cause to sadly reflect. ## SPORTTOPICS.

What's this! Coach Gordon Barry of the Hondo Owls has the "wonder" team of the district this year. For the first time within the memory of some of the older fans, the Owls this year are without the services of a Windrow—thus the "Windrowless Owls" become the wonder team of the district. The name "Windrow" has been engraved in the hall of fame of the Hondo high school. For many years, one or more of the boys of that family have been closely associated with the sports in the Hondo high school and the fans of this entire section who have known them through these years, remember them for their high class of sportsmanship both on and off the field. The graduation last spring of Don Windrow marked the end, temporarily, of the "Windrow regime" at Hondo. Don was injured in the game against Uvalde last fall, and was unable to play for the rest of the season. Another of the boys will not be in high school until next year, it is said, hence, the teams in this district will not be through with Windrow family at least for several years.—Uvalde Leader-News.

VACATION LUNCHEONS

(By Betty Barclay)

Have you ever realized the wonderful opportunity mothers have during vacation time to prepare nourishing lunches for their children?

No matter how much we dislike the idea it is true that a large percentage of our children are undernourished. School authorities realize this and attempt to serve nutritious lunches in many of the large city schools—hoping that these lunches will turn undernourished children into the healthy little animals they are intended to be. In the country and smaller towns the mothers are entirely responsible for the diet of their children, and during nine months of the year the mid-day meal for the often consists of a packed lunch that is none too well balanced.

During vacation, mothers have a wonderful opportunity to prepare tasteful little mid-day meals that will put roses into the cheeks that are unaccustomed to them.

They do not have to be elaborate meals. They do not have to be meals that require a great deal of work over a hot stove or range. On the contrary, the average child most requires in hot weather, foods that are very easily prepared. Milk, fruit salads, novel sandwiches, lemonade, orangeade, and cool desserts are the kinds of food that children most need in the middle of a hot summer day. Fruits and vegetables are almost all decidedly alkaline in their reaction when taken into the system. Milk is also alkaline in its reaction. The cool drinks and desserts reduce the temperature of over-heated little bodies, and as the lunch as a whole is far from heavy, play may be resumed with very little delay.

Use macaroni, dates, nuts, lettuce, green vegetables of all kinds, salmon, cream cheese, and olives as fillings for your sandwiches. Vary these constantly, and moisten such fillings as salmon or peanut butter with lemon juice.

Serve a fruit salad, fruit cup or fruit dessert each day. Feature the orange strongly in these dishes as it is an exceptionally beautiful fruit.

Let the children have plenty of lemonade. A little ice floating in the cool or pitcher will not hurt them at all unless they drink the lemonade too rapidly when very hot—and another should be able to regulate this.

Here is one suggestion for a little salad that will surely please the children. It may be prepared quickly and without much expense.

Lazy Daisy Salad.

(Serves 4)

- 1 orange
- 2 bananas
- Coconut
- Lettuce
- Mayonnaise
- Macaroni cherries

Put oranges and separate into segments free from membrane. Peel bananas cut in halves and then cut each half into 4 fingers. Roll banana fingers in orange juice, then roll banana segments and banana fingers in coconut. Arrange orange and banana alternately in flower petal pattern on beds of lettuce on individual salad plates. Center with mayonnaise and top with macaroni cherries. If your children do not care for mayonnaise merely sprinkle the salad a moment before serving with a little syrup made by combining two parts orange juice with one part lemon juice, the combination being well sweetened.

Merely a Ratification

Robert Hoover's popularity is growing at a rate that knows no other Republican who was in November. Mr. Hoover's quiet dignity and reserve and lack of political bombast has already won for him the confidence of the nation. The election will be merely in the nature of a ratification.—Egan (N. Y.) Sun.

SEPTEMBER BRIDAL SHOWER

In honor of Florence Haegelin who has announced her marriage to Mathias Schuchart, Mrs. Lee Schuchart, Mrs. P. L. Wornbach and Miss Bernice Wornbach were hostesses to her many devoted relatives and friends who gave expression of their affection for her by attending the shower at Mrs. Wornbach's home at Cliff on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 20. Luncheon was played and prizes were awarded to the following: Miss Ruby Tozel won first, a pink flower bouquet; Miss Hazel Schuchart received second, a hand-painted matchbox; consolation prize, a hand-painted luncheon cloth, was won by Mrs. Robert Haegelin. All the prizes were given to the bride.

A lovely luncheon consisting of chicken salad, olives, saltines, white cake with pink frosting, punch, and beautifully decorated mints in shapes of fruits and flowers, was served.

All the guests moved to the reception room followed by the bride while Mrs. Raymond Schuchart played soft-

MARBLING AND MONEY

THE GAME WITH FEES

Once there was a boy named Jack who owned a set of marbles—the only set in his neighborhood. When school opened, Jack carried his marbles with him and they were a source of much pleasure and entertainment among the boys at the recess hours.

But Jack was a grasping, selfish boy, like so many grown-ups are. He conceived the idea of charging his playmates a small fee for the use of his marbles. This he could do as he had the only set on the grounds and the boys were all fond of the game, which had assumed a place of much importance in their minds.

So Jack began collecting his little fees of trinkets and strings and knives and pencils, and pennies, and such things as are wont to be found in the pockets of boys. In the course of a few weeks Jack's pockets were bulging with accumulations, and his playmates were put to their wits end to find funds with which to satisfy Jack's demands.

Pretty soon some of the thoughtful boys began grumbling a little about Jack's power over their possessions and they began holding consultations as to the best thing to be done about it. Jack was a little disturbed, but he felt secure in his practice because he knew the other boys had no marbles, and he knew also that he had about drained them of all their belongings, so he just played marbles and said little.

But the dissatisfaction among the boys continued in a sort of secret ly on the phone. When the bride entered the room, a bed of flowers hung over the door; full upon her a shower of rose petals. In view of the door was a huge watering can, from which extended streams of greenish tissue paper water, falling upon huge posied pink dillies below. Around the flower pot were stacked many gifts useful and beautiful. Queen's Crown, pink crosses and dillies were used for decorating the room.

Those who attended the shower were: The bride, Mrs. Mathias Schuchart, Mrs. Robert Haegelin, Mrs. Ben Riff, Mrs. Joseph Haegelin, Mrs. H. E. Wornbach, Mrs. E. E. Haegelin, Mrs. Louis Tozel, Mrs. Arthur Schuchart, Mrs. Manuel Schuchart, Mrs. Raymond Schuchart, Mrs. A. N. Mangold, Mrs. Milton Wornbach, Mrs. Julius Wornbach, Mrs. L. E. way, for they hesitated to encourage Jack's displeasure, fearing he might raise his fees beyond their power to pay, and thus force them out of the game altogether, so things went on for a while, and the consultations became more frequent and the boys began to consult older and wiser heads. The result was Jack became more and more disturbed. He could not get his own consent to stop charging the fee and play the game on the square with his fellows, for many were the coveted little prizes which he had collected from his pals.

So Jack began showing some spirit of resentment at any interference with his business of mixed profit and pleasure, and he did threaten to take his marbles from the yard. This was what the other boys knew he would do if they showed much resistance to his method, but he knew the game would all be blocked, and the fun of living would be spoiled if he took away their means of livelihood.

So it was just up to the boys to quit the game, or go on contributing to Jack's demands, or else make some arrangements for another set of marbles. The latter course, their wise advisers encouraged them to follow.

MORAL—Now, this marble game is just what is being played in the business world of the United States today. The gold owners are the Jacks who possess all the marbles in the field. Under present law the game of life must be played with these golden marbles, and everybody else must pay Jack his fees, or retire in "sackcloth and ashes" from the Jack Shylock must have his fees and keep the people drained of their possessions, or else the people must go and make some marbles of their own. That is the fix we are in today. Wise heads among the people are threatening to frame a new money system, and Shylock is threatening to wreck the whole game if he can. Shall Shylock win, or shall the people win?

Wise people know that the marbles need not be made of gold, and are willing to dare Shylock to do his worst. The distressing games of war are always played with paper marbles. If that can be done, no one can doubt that the games of peace can more easily be played with the same tokens. Hence, a new money is being framed with a view to getting from congress a new set of marbles with which the people can play, leaving Shylock with his golden marbles to be used as he pleases.

PROTECT YOUR TEAM FROM FLIES

By L. A. Hawkins.

Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Company.

In August and September flies inflict the greatest punishment upon horses.

Animals and all day with flies boring into their backs when a little in-expensive attention would keep them off. Flies are nerve wracking to horses.

Horses grow thin during the stress of the summer's work from a combination of causes—one of the most important of which is the torture inflicted by biting flies.

The damage is caused not only by the torture itself, but by the loss of blood. It is seldom realized how much blood the horse of this often seen in the horse's back sucks out in one day.

Wipe Your Own Neck Put a fly net on the horse. It need not be an expensive one; it need not be a boughten one. It will be all the more serviceable if it is only a crumpled sock split and tied over the harness. Such a fly net will keep the flies off better than one made of leather or woven cord.

Put the harness on the horse, spread the sock over the horse's back and tie the four corners of the sock with strings to the harness so that whenever the harness is put on the horse the blanket is put on also.

This will keep the flies off the horse's back. To keep them off his legs and belly prepare a home-made "fly knocker" as follows: I quart pine tar; 1 pint crude carbolic acid; 1 gallon kerosene. Use this with a sprayer every morning just as the horses start to the field. It takes but little time to spray the legs and parts not protected by the sock and harness. Excellent fly sprays are available on the market at nominal cost and if used according to instructions are effective.

Use Disinfectant Freely Keep a supply of the "knocker" where it can always be used. It will not injure either horse or man and is a good disinfectant. Use it on the coils, covers and calves. When horses or calves are kept in box stalls stretch a wire across the stall well up out of reach and hang from it a piece of gunny cloth, be-ting it come down low enough when the horses, or only walk it, it will brush the flies off. They are inexpensive things, but they keep up the fly protection as flies are gone. Remember the flies "warm up" on warm days after frosts, and then it is the stick the closest to the horse, the hardest and hurt the most, and to the work with less effort.
